

Sister Donna Kristoff has found her call to contemplation has led to significant engagement with Thomas Merton groups and retreats. She also takes delight in the beauty of the Motherhouse spaces. Her awareness of global issues leads her to live justice more consciously and nonviolently in her daily life. For example, she tries to be attentive to nonviolence when driving. Sr. Donna's commitment to a weekly after school art program at Lexington Bell Community Center for 6- to 12-year-olds leads her more deeply into compassion as a mutual experience. She says active involvement in art is empowering to people.
